Thank you for helping keep Families
in our community warm this heating season through Project Warm-up!

AFL-CIO Community

Services

Project Warm-Up

Project Warm-Up is a heating assistance program designed to prevent families in our community from freezing. This program provides up to 100 gallons of fuel for those who have exhausted all other avenues or who may fall between the cracks in qualifying for other programs and are almost out of fuel and have no other means.

Project Warm-Up focuses on serving those in need who are in a crisis. For example, those persons under employed, laid-off due to downsizing, people experiencing unusual medical expenses and families in emergency.

This program serves as a helpful tool in outreach and casework services to the families in our community during the heating season.

Project Warm-up runs from December 1st through the middle of March or until the fund is depleted.
